Student Body Petitions Due At Four Today; Twelve Petitions Submitted

All petitions for candidacy in the forthcoming student body election must be submitted before four o'clock this afternoon, according to Meta Johnsen, student body president.

At noon yesterday, a total of twelve petitions had been submitted, with only one student body office being contested.

PRESIDENCY UNCONTESTED

Izzie Pivnik has filed for the student body presidency; June Dolan, vice-president; Doris Hoffman and Dorothy Damon, secretary; Audrey Scontriano, treasurer; Scott Hope, activities commissioner; Barbara Anderson, Hal Juster, Pat Healy and Art Blum for the Board of Directors; Barbara Mocker, president of AWS, and Miriam Prosser, vice-president of AWS.

PETITIONS STILL OUT

There are several petitions currently being circulated, including those of Arlee Fowlkes for the Board of Directors and Rita Koller, present yell leader, for activities commissioner.

The election, on May 3, will select students to fill the positions of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and activities commissioner of the student body, seven members of the board of directors and the officers of the associated men's and women's organizations.

According to an unconfirmed report, all elective positions that are uncontested will be held open, and an election held at a later date. This stipulation has been written into the official minutes of the board of directors, but as yet, has not appeared in the constitution or by-laws of the constitution.

Popular Alpha Omega Barn Dance Scheduled For 8:30 p. m. Tomorrow; "Hick" Dress Featured

Tomorrow night, from 8:30 until 11:30, the women's gym will be transformed into a colorful rustic scene of country boys jigging with their ladies.

Ten-gallon hats and shining spurs, freckles and pig tails, cotton dresses and jeans, plaid shirts and pinafores—all will be in view at the first barn dance to be sponsored by Alpha Omega, women's service sorority, since pre-war days. Tickets are on sale in the Co-op.

Alluring Alpha Omega co-eds, Mabel Wilson and Mary Alice Porter entice State's populace to the revival of their annual barn dance tomorrow night in the gym. Come stag or drag.

FUNNELLE'S ORCHESTRA

Music for the frolic will be furnished by the hot-shots of Sleepy Gulch—Bob Funnelle and his orchestra, who will also be decked out in their hill-billy finery.

Unique and colorful decorations are being planned for the occasion, and many surprises are in store for the dancers during the evening.

ANTICIPATED EVENT

"In the past, this barn dance was one of the most anticipated events of the term," said Alpha Omega president, Peg O'Haire, "and it is certain that this first one will be more popular than ever." No enthusiastic Stater should miss this gay and fun-filled get-together, according to Miss O'Haire.

Tickets for the dance are $.75 each with a student body card and $1.00 without.

Publications Posts Open

Petitions for editorial positions on the Golden Gater and Franciscan may be submitted to faculty post office box, 40 according to Caroline Nahman of the Board of Publications.

Applicants should list the positions for which they are petitioning and the experience they have had on college publications.

Editorial positions include editor, assistant editor, managing editor, feature editor, sports editor, exchange editor and business manager.

State Plays Host To Junior Colleges In First Postwar Choral Festival

The first Northern California Junior College Choral Festival since the war will be presented Tuesday, May 8, in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church from 2 to 4 p. m.

CONCERT PROGRAM

Members of State's Choral-Strings will present a dinner concert with the theme "Landmarks of California," which will feature Indian, English, Russian, Spanish and Scandinavian music. The program will include "Sunset in the Valley" by Lehmer with the A Capella Choir and Orchestra, featuring Mr. Harold Hollingsworth as soloist, representing the Indian theme. "Spanish Dance," deFalla, by the orchestra, Spanish; "O Light Divine," Archangelsky, Russian; "Up Country Song," Grainger, English; "Lost in the Night," Christiansen, Scandinavian, and "O Sing Unto the Lord," Hassler, International. These numbers will be done by the choir.

Joe Pucci is general chairman of the program to be presented by State and is assisted by El Larson, reception chairman; other committee members include faculty adviser Dean Mary Ward; Rita O'Neill, faculty reception; Joan Durand, decoration chairman; Jean Stanbridge, programs, and Barbara Warren, corresponding secretary.

The festival is open to the student body, and the music department cordially invites them to attend.

Pres. Leonard Addresses Rotary Club; Stresses Clarification of Conscription

Calling for a clarification of national security policy and of actual military needs before deciding the question of universal conscription, President J. Paul Leonard of San Francisco State College addressed the Rotary Club last Tuesday.

Speaking on "Universal Military Training," Dr. Leonard said that the American public has yet to be convinced that peace time conscription is necessary to the preservation of world peace. Many words have been spoken pro and con, but no detailed analysis of the new tactical and strategical situation has been advanced to support the categorical statements.

"Universal military training is only one piece in the pattern of world peace and national security," Dr. Leonard said, "and each part must be seen in relationship to the whole."

AMERICA MUST KNOW

"The need for universal training must be decided upon one ground only—is it essential for national defense?"

The American people would like to know whether the advent of revolutionary implements of war has fundamentally altered previous concepts of national defense, Dr. Leonard said. If as some scientists and military authorities have said, that future war would be quickly dispatched by means of atomic bombs, the value of a large army is questionable.

"The question of universal military training is not one of military strategy to be made by the professional soldiers," Dr. Leonard declared. "It is a national policy, a civilian issue. It is a question of where we want to throw our hat first—into the U. N. or into universal conscription. The American people must decide that issue and live with their decision."

STATE HISTORY EXAM FOR NINE TOMORROW

The comprehensive senior history constitution examination will be given tomorrow, April 27 from 9 to 11 in room 208, College Hall, according to Dr. Floyd A. Cave, chairman of the examination.

A waiver of the comprehensive examination in whole or in part for graduates of June or summer, 1946, has been approved by President J. Paul Leonard and the chairman of the social science department, Dr. Walter Hacker.

The comprehensive in government will be waived for those who present Government 1A, 40, 140 or 147.

The comprehensive in history will be waived for those presenting Economics 11, History 171B or Government s113.

Roy Simpson to Speak at Banquet; Large Student Turnout Expected

Roy E. Simpson, state director of education, will be the principal speaker at the State College celebration banquet to be held at the St. Francis Hotel on Monday evening, May 6.

The topic for Mr. Simpson's address has not yet been disclosed, but he is expected to devote a part of his talk at least to a discussion of the future destiny of the college. The dinner is occasioned by the recent passage of the $3,436,000 appropriation bill for constructing ten buildings on the Lake Merced campus.

FLO QUARTARARO WILL SING

Florence Quartararo, Metropolitan Opera debutante and State graduate with the class of 1941, will, will be another featured attraction. She will sing a number of operatic arias, accompanied on the piano by Dr. Wendell Otey, and will have conferred upon her an honorary degree of bachelor of music by President Leonard.

Other celebreties will include James Dean, director of finance; Dr. Joel Burkman, assistant director of education; Anson Boyd, state architect in charge of plans for the new college; Curtis Warren, superintendent of San Francisco schools; William Odell, superintendent of Oakland schools, and William Paden, superintendent of Alameda schools.

Students, alumni, and faculty are now making reservations for the affair, which will be held in the Colonial Room of the historic hotel. All student body officers will attend, according to Meta Johnsen, president of the student body, and a large representation of students from campus organizations are expected.

Various groups of students and alumni are organizing tables for the occasion, Caroline Nahman, business manager, announced. Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity, is arranging such a table.

REDUCTION FOR S. B. CARDS

Special reduced price for student body card holders was announced by Miss Nahman and Miss Johnsen. The bids are $3 with student body card, $3.50 without.

Dr. Sherman Brown, who has been making contacts with State alumni, reports a growing enthusiasm for the banquet among the graduates, and a large turnout is anticipated.

A large signup of faculty members and their spouses was reported by Dr. George Gibson, chairman of the public relations committee. Reservations are obtainable at Miss Nahman's office and Mr. Nee's office.

Students Paying For College Theatre Twice

No one likes to pay for things twice.

No one likes to be taken in by well meaning projects, or be made a fool of more than once.

Yet, you, as students, are paying for College Theatre twice, and thus are being taken in by a well meaning project.

"The Man and the Masses" was an excellent play; it was excellently acted by your fellow students; it was excellently directed by Miss Caroline Silverthorne.

But—and here is the bone of contention—why were students charged seventy-five cents to see the production?

Why?

It has been stated that it was necessary to charge such a high admittance price to pay for the "high" royalty of the play. In this case, the royalty was $55 for the three nights it ran.

EXAMINE STATUS

Let us examine the financial status of College Theatre. All figures were obtained from the business manager of the Associated Students of this college.

College Theatre is allotted ten cents per card from the sale of each student body card. This year that amounted to approximately $85. The balance on hand at the beginning of the spring semester was $109. Sales from tickets for "Man and the Masses" amounted to $226. The sum total of all monies procured by College Theatre is $420, less the expenses for the play.

WE'RE OVERCHARGED!

Now—is College Theatre justified in charging fellow students seventy-five cents per student to see its production?

No!!

The Golden Gater has every right, working under the same premise as College Theatre is working, to charge you a nickel a copy for the paper ABOVE AND BEYOND THE DOLLAR YOU HAVE ALREADY PAID! !

The Athetic department has every right to charge you students admission to all athletic contests ABOVE AND BEYOND THE MONEY YOU HAVE APPROPRIATED FOR ATHLETICS! ! !

A reasonable charge, say twenty-five cents for students, would have been more in line with the student body policy of admission prices.

If the royalty seemed exceedingly high, why wasn't the Executive Board approached for financial aid? But the Board was not approached.

Again, the play was excellent; the acting by the students was excellent; the direction was excellent.

But, WHY, Miss Silverthorne, were the students of this college charged an excessive price for admission to the play?

"Love Thy Neighbor?" Brotherhood Week Fails

Last month included, along with the everyday births, deaths and heartbreak of 140,000,000 free born Americans, a week dedicated to the teachings of Jesus Christ and the doctrines of Abraham Lincoln.

This 168 hour period was lovingly known as Brotherhood Week. Brotherhood week was supposed to change the cultural habits of the minority hating fifty percent of our population, and to induce them to 'love thy neighbor.' Strangely enough, however, the age-old patterns of hatred and bigotry weren't destroyed by Brotherhood week. They weren't even dented. As the week rolled to a fitful end, the first race riot of the new year marred the tranquility of the sleepy little town of Columbus, Tennessee. It seems that words are not a powerful enough medicine to make men brothers.

On the international front, as the thunderous echos of the greatest war in history died regretfully away in the Far East, rumors and whispers of a new war soon to come caused many a sleepless night, while twenty million shattered bodies stirred uneasily in their graves.

Hello, brothers. —T. T.

Let's Open Student Lounge

By Tom Thorp

It has come to our attention that the student lounge is still closed, because of the untidy condition in which it was found. We do not believe that this action was either necessary or fair to the student body, and we fail to see how it will accomplish any reasonable change in the objectionable conditions, unless, of course, the lounge is to be closed permanently.

LOUNGE BECOMES UNTIDY

It is true enough that the lounge rapidly becomes untidy and filled with debris, but under the present setup this is unavoidable. The lounge has only one small wastebasket and five small ashtrays to cope with the cargo of waste paper, luncheon remnants and cigarette butts left by the several hundred students who visit it daily. Couple this miniature garbage disposal system with the fact that the lounge receives janitor service only once or twice a week, and it becomes clear why the lounge fills with rubbish so rapidly after each cleaning.

If the lounge is to be opened again, we would suggest the following points to aid in its operation:

FOUR POINT PLAN

1. Provide adequate receptacles for garbage; for example, one large garbage can for general purposes and several buckets of sand for cigarettes.

2. Arrange for janitorial service twice daily. The student body should be able to afford this if the college cannot.

3. Allow some student organization to take over the administration of the lounge.

4. Since the student lounge was paid for by student body funds, and is operated for the students, give a reasonable amount of warning to the student council before closing it, so that objectionable conditions may be remedied without going to extremes.

Letter To The Editor

An epidemic is spreading, and I don't mean smallpox.

The majority of people on the home-front are doing everything in their power to help the returning war veterans, and there are also those who, knowing this, take advantage of the fact.

CIRCULATION BUILT UP

I make reference to one of San Francisco's leading newspapers. To build up the circulation, a woman calls saying something to the effect that her husband is a returned war veteran and she has two children. One of these children is trying to build up a paper route, and would you please help him out by taking the paper for a month. After you have agreed to subscribe, she thanks you very graciously and concludes with "God Bless You."

PHONEY STORIES SPREAD

This is all well and good, except for one detail. Upon talking to the delivery boy he'll promptly tell you he has no brother, his father is too old for the service and his mother definitely didn't phone you.

These people don't stop at using war veterans; they also use the names of The Salvation Army and other worthy organizations as bait.

If you wish to contribute to a cause, contribute directly. Beware of sob stories. —Corinne Webb

BLUM'S BULLSESSION

Names N' The News

These are times that try men's souls, m'buckos. For weeks now all we've done is to sign petitions for everything from student body presidents to legalizing dog racing.

A few days ago we discovered that, besides a recall Lapham and Bilbo movement, a "change the name of S. F. J. C. to City College of San Francisco" drive was also circulating throughout the city.

Here at State petitions for the various student body offices are slowly trickling in. So far, IZZY PIVNICK is the lone entry for the presidential race, JUNE DOLAN for vice-president, and DORIS HOFFMAN for secretary. Putting it bluntly, the scarcity of competition is an unhealthy situation, and we certainly hope that by press time more petitions will have been turned in—enough at least, to guarantee a race for each office.

BUCHANAN BANTER:

The two-way stretch will be amply demonstrated at the Whitcomb Hotel, May 3, when SHIRLEY GRAUBART and ILMA TETER model—of all things—corsets! . . . Easter vacation had its repercussions for LILA ROSE who broke out with the measles at China Beach while escort BOB JAMES broke out in a cold sweat! . . . powah'ful rumor is floating around to the effect that "BIG" JIM KEATING of former athletic fame will return to Gatorville next Fall . . .

At the recent term play former State dramatists, ADELE MENJOU and DOROTHEA ESKESEN, put in a surprise appearance . . . we learned that Dorothea's sister, JACKIE ESKESEN, is now "sweating out" a long term contract with R. K. O. after having bit parts in five pictures. The Little Theater's prize protege has her photo plastered all over the April issue of Screen Guide, under her Hollywood name of CHRISTINE MILLER! Incidentally, plaudits to MARGE SHEARER for her excellent work in the play, and to JIM HARAN whose terrific acting was the hit of the show! . . . visiting the alleys recently was STU BENNETT, just discharged, and famous as the Flo Zeigfield of the last Chicken's Ball—and anxious to start the year right with the "Ball's" revival.

HAIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

At the forthcoming All-School Picnic at the new campus look for—believe it or not—a male kissing booth sponsored by the veterans! Expected to be "The Chief Kisser" is CHOICE CHARLEY GUICHARD—Under the leadership of JERRY COLOMBI, the AVS Flying Club is rapidly lining up members who want to make State supreme "on land, on sea, and in the air!" . . . Danger Signal to wary wolves: The newly formed Rifle Club is comprised almost entirely of—awk!—women!

Before the term bows out it seems to many oldtimers that there should be a rejuvenation of the once popular and laugh provoking student-Faculty debates at Frederic Burke Auditorium. To BERNICE BEDWELL, vice-president: Offhand we'd like to see the trio of VIN O'LEARY, IZZY PIVNIK and CAESAR ORSINI representing the students vs DR. CARLO LASTRUCCI, DR. GEORGE GIBSON and DR. ELIAS ARNESEN on any subject that would be calculated to arouse Student-Faculty interest. Actually, there are many others qualified to participate in such a debate — the aforementioned were merely suggestions—but the main thing is to get going on this debate immediately. It was—and again can be—a feature of State life!

ANNEX AH'ING

Alumni notes: Ex-student body prexy, JIM LINDSEY, and the Mrs. were back for a quick visit, as was HANK LARMASSEAU'S better half, the former DOTTIE FITZPATRICK. Back too, came former class president BILL MIDDLETON and ex-senior prom queen, BETTY JENSEN. RUTH BENNETT, former frosh hop queen is now in Hollywood . . . and why not give our alumni association a bit of a prodding so that these people will continue to hear of State, as well as State hearing of them?

MARILYN BROWN, petite Gator coed, has recently announced her engagement to FRED TURNER—and now we'd like to announce that annex B boasts one of the few harpists in the bay area, EVE WOLFE, who, after just a few years' practice, is nothing short of terrific! JUNE DOLAN 'tis said, is still wondering whether the "Stirrup, Pump, N' Bucket" signs in College Hall represent some new State organization—and if so, who is the Grande Stirrup?

STATE-STORY

A little over a week ago, hoop star DON ELLIS left the home of his beloved one JEAN SMITH, a wee bit later than usual. Exhaustedly, the gallant Miss Smith headed for the "sack" when she was startled by the harsh ringing of the doorbell.

Swinging the door open she was amazed to see a wild-eyed Don Ellis in the arms of the law. The police were on the lookout for a prowler or "Peeping Tom" and Dapper Don fitted the description to a "T". The "Law" asked Jeanny to identify Dapper Don and—after a moment of spiteful suspenseful hesitation—she did—to Mr. Ellis' evident relief.

But to this day, fearful of being tabbed a "prowler," Don quietly slips away from Jean's house every eve before the cop starts walking his beat! This again proves of course, that crime does not pay—if it did, Invisible Scarlet O'Neil would be workin' for peanuts now! — and who likes peanuts?

Elections Loom Near, But Who's Running?

An unhealthy situation relative to the forth coming student body elections confronted the Executive Board recently. The members were forced to reach a decision as to how to combat the general apathy of the school in general, an apathy that has resulted in a ridiculously low number of petitions being turned in for the coming elections.

This year's officers wanted a time extension in order that more petitions might come in, but because of a rigid clause in the constitution setting the election date five weeks prior to the end of the term, a compromise solution—a poor one at that—was forced upon the board.

POOR DECISION MADE

The decision of the members, in deference to a seemingly inflexible constitution extended two—think of it—two meager days beyond the original deadline for petitions to be turned in. Today, instead of Wednesday, is the last day for contestants to file an entry. And as of this writing, three days before deadline, only one man is running for president, only one for vice president, only one for secretary, only one for treasurer, none for rally comissioner, and not even six students running for the six positions of members at large! This is not an election—it's a farce! Frankly, the situation reeks, and not all the blame falls upon the student body!

ELECTION PUBLICITY FAILS

The mantle of guilt falls upon those officers in charge of the so-called election. They have waited until the very last moment to give publicity to the forthcoming race—and this mainy by dint of last-minute posters. But the timing of the publicity was poor mainly because not one story publicizing the election or those running for office was able to be printed in the Gater before the petition deadline faded from view. Today is too late! Prospective candidates want to know who's running and why before they themselves decide to run. This information was lacking. Publicity has been a failure. Too little—too late!

In addition, petition dates should be set to meet the requirements of both publicity and students as a whole.

NOMINATIONS NEEDED

As already suggested in a previous editorial a candidate's rally should be staged to introduce the contestants to the student body.

We'll go one large step farther and suggest that the petition system be abolished in favor of the more democratic and natural system of "nominations." A huge rally or convention would have to be held, in which those students who are the people's choice or the choice of particular organizations would be nominated for all the offices open for election. Nominations accepted, a sure-fire, red-hot race would be certain to develop for each position, a race that would be contested not only by the participants but by those groups that originally supported and nominated the candidates.

This would be a healthy situation and it behooves the Executive Board to stop shying away from the terrifying legality of the constitution that has halted their every step in this direction. Amend the darn thing for the good of the college! After all, even the United State's Constitution has been amended—and we still think it's pretty good! —A. B.

Student Librarians Need Better Work Conditions

A wave of indignation and resentment swept through the library staff recently after the Gater published an editorial leveling criticism at the type of service given by the student librarians this term. The girls vowed to write letters to the editor explaining their side of the story—which, while it has merit, is still not sufficient justification for poor service. No letters, incidentally, have been received from the girls.

We did get a note, however, from the head librarian regarding the problem:

"In regard to the charge of discourteous service made in an editoria in a recent Gater, may I state in your columns that no complaints of the kind mentioned have ever been brought to this office? We are always glad to have suggestions for the improvement of the services we attempt to give."

RUTH FLEMING

Miss Fleming's reply indicates a desire upon the part of the library staff to give the best service possible, but though complaints regarding discourteous service may not have reached her office, they did reach the Gater office. Complaints regarding poor service in the library is the reason the editorial was written and printed!

We do agree with some of the student librarians that two improvements could be made to ease the situation a bit:

1) Obtain more student help to ease the burden upon the few who do the work of many.

2) Pay the girls more than the meager 60 cents an hour they now receive. Higher wages will be an inducement for added help. The State of California can certainly afford to pay student help "living wages."

These suggestions for the improvement of working conditions should be acted upon at once, but in the meantime we feel sure that from now on the desire of the student librarians to give the best service possible will be evident at any and all times to any and all customers. —A.B.

"Too Much Is Enough Cries," Professor

By Doris Thulin

The social science professor surveyed the class with obvious speculation. In a moment, he thought to himself, it will happen again. He shuddered visibly. He would repeat the usual interrogation, "Are there any questions?" and inevitably a dead silence would prevail in the room.

Day after day, week after week, the problem confronted him, but he never gave up hope. Some day, someone would ask a question which might result in an intelligent class discussion. He would admit that once in awhile a student would ask for a pencil, or might even ask him to lecture more slowly, but never did anyone raise a revolutionary idea or question that would promote class interest.

LECTURE IS LULU

He opened his notebook, called the class to attention and presented his daily lecturer. At the conclusion of the hour, determined to get some response, he asked the lazy blond in the second row for any question he might have about the subject. "Nah, sir. Nothin' I want to know." The rest of the class sighed wearily, and looked at the clock. The bell rang, the class left and that was that.

The following day the professor hurried to class in high spirits. The four hours he had spent in preparing his lecture for the day would not be wasted if he could rouse just one spark of enthusiasm. He would present a challenge which might even wake up the blond.

The class filed in as usual and sat down. Today, not even their dull faces and languid, reclining bodies could disturb him. Today was his day, and he had to win. He began to lecture, and was surprised at his own eloquence. He waved his arms dramatically, and pounded the desk for added emphasis. Then he sprang the challenge—"I do not believe that America has succeeded in developing a democracy."

BLOND STIRS

From the corner of his eye he saw the blond stir restlessly. It was working! The blond was going to ask a question. He looked as though he felt that any question would be out of place after such a lecture, the professor noted with pleasure. The blond was slowly and hesitantly raising his hand. The professor breathed deeply, and said triumphantly, "You have a question, young man?"

"Yes, sir. Is this course required?"

The bell rang, the class left and the professor sank quietly and unobtrusively to the floor.

S. F. State Plays Host To Nine J. C. Choirs

State students should circle the date May 7, 1946, for that day will be one of the most important and eventful days of this term.

On May 7, 1946 a Junior College Festival is on S. F. State's agenda. Yes, S. F. State College will be host to nine junior college a cappella choirs comprising over 400 people. Students will journey from as far south as Salinas and as far east as Sacramento, to our campus, where a full day of activity is scheduled.

The festivities will begin at 2:00 when the junior college a cappella choirs will entertain us.

DANCE SCHEDULED

From Frederic Burke the aggregations will be escorted to State's fashionable gymnasium where a dance is to be scheduled. (For any State boys who are looking for new faces or for any State girls who are tired of the local talent this dance should be well worth your time.) When the visitors have danced long enough and have become completely exhausted and famished, the next battle cry will be, "Dinnah" is served." After pooling all available resources, facilities and hard labor they will serve a sumptious and savory dinner.

VISITORS SERENADED

To let the guests depart after dinner without any further activity would indeed be a faux pas, so at this time when the night is still young and we're all so beautiful, stroll from the spacious State campus down colorful Waller St. to the Baptist Church. There S. F. State's own renowned a cappella will present an evening concert. (My spies tell me it will be sensational, better than "Oklahoma").

(GRID) IRONS IN THE FIRE

The sound of a bat against a baseball is going to be supplemented by the hollow sound of a foot against a football next week. Yup, spring practice has finally invaded State. I was down checking out some equipment t'other night and ran into a few other prospective candidates: Walt Suggs, trying to find the same pair of shoes he had last year; Ed McArthur, who could not find a helmet to fit him; Harry Misthos, looking for knee pads and socks, and Stu Mercereau, who wants to schedule San Jose State. Incidentally, V. Richard (Dick) Boyle is planning to use the "T" exclusively throughout the warm weather sessions.

PHI EPSILON MOVES

Probably the most active organization on campus at the present time is the recently re-activated Phi Epsilon Mu. Among other things on the calendar is the revival of the Sports Night, to be held May 17th. A complete program will be announced in a couple of days. It is known that the finals of the State boxing tourney will be held that night, with nationally known ref Frankie Carter doing the officiating. Sign-up sheets for the pugilistic tourney are in the training quarters and on the Vet's bulletin board near the Co-op. A vote of thanks to George Lorbeer, Izzie Pivnick and Al Vladimaroff for bringing the once powerful PEM back to life.

AD TRIVIA

Saw baseballer Ed Dunn, basketballer Norm Keller, footballers Russ Armstrong and Ed McArthur, tennis-er Gene Phillips and tumbler Al Lorner up at Larkspur opening night . . . Have you ever heard that chant of Dutch Schultz's? Dutch should make an application to a certain cig company as a tobacco auctioneer . . . I wonder if Paul Hungerford knows that there is an interurban running between Chico and Sacramento. Paul went for a street-car trip up in Chico and found himself on a Sac bound trolley. Paul had to get off and hike the three miles back to Chico . . . Bay Meadows is instituting a petition to have SF State underwrite them. Jim Harun, Ed Pittson, Aimee Hourcade, the Kellers and Ed Dunn, among others, are donating enough make the petition senseless . . . Big Sign Up For Football; Practice To Start Monday

The sign-up for spring football training would indicate that the prospects for State's varsity next fall are among the best in Gator history. Over 50 experienced men have signed up, with the number still increasing.

Judging from the experience listed, State hasn't been left out on her share of players. Included in the list are 12 veterans of last season, many former local prep stars and numerous men who played for service teams.

Practice starts on Monday, and will continue until May 24, when a regulation game will be played. Coach Dick Boyle, former St. Mary's All-American quarterback, will introduce the vaunted "T" formation to Gatorville for the first time.

The "T" will be used exclusively in spring practice, although the Notre Dame box will also be used during the regular season.

Equipment has been issued to the prospective gridders during the past week. Practice will be held daily at the new campus.

Treasure Isle Nine Beats State 4 to 0

Lefty Stevens and Russ Terranova blanked the Gator nine with two hits as they shared mound honors in hurling the Treasure Island Pirates to a 4 to 0 victory over State at TI Tuesday.

Except for Herb Bill, who singled in the first inning and again in the ninth, the Gator hitters were completely stopped by the Pirate hurlers.

The Navy scored twice in the first inning on Green's walk, Lowe's triple and a single by Rybok. In the second, Ring singled, Stevens walked, and both scored when Marcoulis dropped Green's fly after a long run.

Still In Batting Slump

Gators Meet Concordia Tomorrow; Play Army, Navy Nines Next Week

Still in a desperate batting slump, the Gator baseball team entertains Concordia College of Oakland at Big Rec tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. The Gator batters will have to snap out of their lethargy if they hope to score many runs, for they will be facing some top notch pitching.

IRV EDSTROM
Pitches Tomorrow

Jack Fassholz, who hurled in the East-West prep all-star game last year, has been nominated for Concordia's mound duties. Fassholz has also been pitching this spring for the strong Gordon Realty semi-pro nine.

Opposing Fassholz on the mound will be Irv Edstrom, who turned in a better than average game Tuesday against Treasure Island, allowing but two earned runs but dropped a 4 to 0 decision when his mates could not score for him.

DAMONTE HITS .349

Currently hitting .349, Chuck Damonte is leading the State club in batting. Herb Bill and John Nicolini are hitting a respectable .294 and .290, respectively. However, except for these three, none of the regulars are above .240.

Coach Hal Harden has indicated that he will continue to use the same players, despite their failure at the plate.

T. I. TUESDAY

Next Tuesday the Gators visit Treasure Island again to cross bats with the T. I. Pirates, who defeated State 4 to 0 last week. Russ Terranova will hurl for the sailors, while Red Dunn will work for the Gators.

State meets the Army club next Thursday at the Presidio. Irv Edstrom, who beat them 5 to 1 earlier in the year, will be Harden's mound selection.

State Gators Wallop Chico

CHICO, April 13—An under-dog San Francisco State track squad upset the local dopesters and took ten out of fifteen first places to trounce the overrated Chico State spikesters 83 1-2 to 47 1-2.

The reliable Hal Fox copped both sprints for the Gators, as usual, in 10.2 and 23.5, while veteran John Sheppard won the low hurdles in 25.6 and placed second in the high hurdles and in the century.

The only bright performance for the disappointing Wildcat squad was turned in by Kemp, who took both the javelin and shot put. Kemp beat Wilson, Gator star, who is usually good for ten points a meet.

The summary:

EDMOND MELENDEZ, born December 2, 1919, in Los Angeles, California . . . moved to San Francisco in 1930. Attended Francisco Jr. High . . . never attended high school. Enlisted in U. S. Army and served with 30th Infantry Division when 19 years old . . . was discharged four months before Pearl Harbor attack in '41 . . . re-enlisted in the Coast Guard in September of '42 . . . served as a radioman for three years. Ed played end on Joe Verducci's Sea Lions grid team. Finally released from C G after three and a half years of service. Now enrolled in State, thanks to G. I. Bill . . . majoring in P. E.

Greatest play ever participated in was when he was with the Sea Lions . . . ball was passed to the other end, who was boxed in near the sidelines. The defensive safety man was racing in to make the tackle when Ed threw a sensational block making it possible for his team-mate to sprint the rest of the distance to paydirt.

Gators Pull Tennis Upset

Netmen Defeat SFJC, Santa Clara; Meet Pacific Today, T. I. Tomorrow

The San Francisco State tennis team comes back this week end hoping for another pair of victories after trouncing San Francisco JC 8 to 0 Tuesday and squeezing by a strong Santa Clara club 5 to 4 Wednesday on the Gator courts.

This afternoon at 2:30 the State netmen take on the College of Pacific here, while tomorrow they travel to Treasure Island to play the T. I. Receiving Ship team.

SURPRISE UPSET

In the matches with Santa Clara, State pulled a surprise upset out of the bag by defeating the same Bronco squad which trounced them 7 to 2 earlier in the year. The meet was close all the way, with the final match of the day deciding the issue, as Joe Woolfson and Maurice Sockalov teamed to take a bitterly fought match from Oakes and Harris of Santa Clara, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3.

Against SFJC Tuesday, the Gator netmen partially avenged the recent baseball defeats by smashing to an 8 to 0 victory over a weak Ram team.

DECISIVE WIN

Vern Whitney, number three man, scored the most decisive win of the day when he took Buzz Fernback 6-0, 6-0. Red Bell, late of the Army, made his debut for State, playing in the number eight slot.

On April 11, San Jose State came back to win the last two singles matches and sweep the doubles to defeat the locals by a slender 5 to 4 margin.

Gators Take On Aggies, COP In 3-Way Spikefest

The Gator cindermen will be striving to get back into the win column when they travel to Stockton tomorrow to take on COP and Cal Aggies in a triangular track meet. The meet will be run at Baxter stadium at 1:30 p. m.

Pacific and State are of equal strength, and Gator coach Ray Kaufman looks for close competition from these two contenders for top honors, but the Aggies are comparatively weak.

In a dual meet at Chico last week, the Davis squad took a 78 to 52 trouncing from the same Chico State outfit that the Gators easily defeated.

Golf Team Ends Season

State golfers, coached by Dick Boyle, will try to break into the win column tomorrow morning when they meet Marin JC for the second time this season. Monday, the squad travels to San Jose State to wind up the season against the Spartans.

So far the golf team has lost all four of its matches, dropping a pair to St. Mary's, and one each to Marin and San Jose. The squad is composed of George Albrecht, Del Goodyear, Ed Murray, Bob Kitchen and Bill Dobbins, with Harry Gotell acting as manager and assistant coach.

Jaycee Nine Beats State

HARRISON FIELD, April 16—SFJC took the odd game of a three game series by beating San Francisco State 4 to 1. Bill Collins hurled steady ball for the Rams, allowing but six hits and striking out nine.

Frank Ratto, Ram center fielder, singled in the first frame and completed the circuit when Armand Quartini let the ball roll between his legs. The Rams scored twice in the third on consecutive singles by Collins, Dick Sabatini and Ratto. Quartini again booted Ratto's hit, donating the Jaycees another unearned run.

Results of the recent basketball tournament show the seniors as the top team, having defeated the juniors in the last game of the play-offs.

Badminton winners of the doubles tournament were Mary Falbo and Emma Johnson, who defeated Sylvia Zeitler and Bessie Provost by a score of 15-6.

Again in the winner brackets, the badminton singles tournament, Mary Falbo emerged as champ of defeating her runner-up, Janie Baker, by a score of 11-1.

Mrs. Blanche Drury, badminton sponsor, devoted much of her time, along with Helen Hansen, manager, to make the tournament a success.

We hate to admit it in this column, but the highest bowling score so far was made by a man. Howard Smith bowled a score of 175. Next highest score was made by (there's that woman again) Mary Falbo, who bowled 171.

Haines Pitches COP To Win Over Gators

OAK PARK, STOCKTON, April 13—College of the Pacific held—San Francisco State scoreless until the ninth inning in beating the Gators 4 to 1, to sweep a two-game series. After being held to four blows in eight innings, State got to Tiger pitcher Jerry Haines for three singles in the ninth, with Stew Saunders driving in Gene Cox.

Bob Beckham triped for COP in the first inning and tagged up on a fly to center. The Tigers scored two more in the second when Jimmy Torvik and George Selkirk both got life on boots by Chuck Damonte, and later crossed the plate on infield outs.

Continuing his great hitting streak, Damonte collected three singles, to make it ten hits in the last four games.

Intramural activities surged into a new high this week, with the tennis tournament reaching the semi-final round, and the long-heralded volley ball tourney getting under way.

The turnout in the volley ball competition has set a new high in intramural league play, with 118 men signed up. The twelve teams have been divided into two leagues, with each division playing a round robin. The two winners will meet in a two out of three series for the championship.

Guest Critic Applauds Term Play; Shearer, Haran Hummel Outstanding

by Edward E. Cassady

Drama lovers have come to expect a high level of performance from College Theatre players. Their expectations were completely satisfied by the expert performances of Ernst Toller's "Man and the Masses" last week.

The highly unconventional play, with its impressionistic revelations of psychological and social conflicts, challenged to the utmost the intelligence and acting resources of the troupe. There is little plot upon which actors may depend to carry things along. The acting must be creative, the timing must be sure, and the rhythm must be dynamic — or the effect would break into meaningless fragments.

EXCITING DRAMA

The College Theatre cast met the challenge with distinction, keeping the capacity audiences in the spell of mounting suspense until the drop of the final curtain. There might have been some doubt among the spectators as to the real meaning of the play, but they were commonly agreed that "Man and the Masses" was exciting drama.

As for the individual actors and actresses, Margaret Shearer gave a superb interpretation of "The Woman," about whom and through whose mind all of the action circulates. Miss Shearer's rich voice and commanding stage presence were equal to the demands put upon them.

HARAN DISPLAYS TALENT

James Haran gave color and vitality to the robust role of "The Nameless One," the ardent revolutionary leader of the masses who would sacrifice limitless human blood on the altar of the Cause. Appearing for the first time in College Theatre, Haran demonstarated a real talent for acting.

Allen Hummel gave a creditable interpretation of the banker-husband, conveying so well the cold, stark plutocrat, that his acting seemed stiff and chilly. No doubt with deliberate intent, he kept his face in a mask-like rigidity.

MINOR ROLES PRAISED

In the minor roles the entire cast earned the plaudits of the audience. The choral work, which at times approximated the modern ballet in its choreographic effects, was excellently performed by groups of bankers, workers, representatives of the masses, shadows and prisoners.

Actors whose talents lent distinction to the lesser parts include Edmund Reynolds, Lewis Fosse, Shirlee Graubart and Mary Meniktas, all of whom played individual as well as group roles. The other parts were capably handled by Vernon Fraga, L. C. Buoncristiani, Charles Jones, Ardelle Clark, John Marage, Charles Autry, Gilbert Adams, Ferne Kline, Mary Geannacopulos, Rosemary Wallace, Ilma Teter, Margo Davidson, Virginia Amarel, Gloria Huggins, Paula Moffit and Barbara Nelson.

STAGING EXCELLENT

The production staff did a fine job in creating exciting atmospheric effects with staging and lighting. The lighting was particularly dramatic and the use of the gauze curtain for dream fantasies was effective.

Dr. Elias T. Arnesen helped greatly to set the proper mood for the play with his graphic prologues at the Monday and Wednesday performances.

Miss Carolyn Silverthorne, who directed the production, again proved her mastery of stagecraft. Credit for the smooth and moving dramatic adventure is due in large part to her intelligent skill in play direction.

AWS Rally Slated For Friday, May 3

Associated Women Students will stage a noon rally next Friday, May 3, in the gymnasium, it was announced by Mary Jane Parker, A.W.S. president.

"The purpose of the rally," stated Miss Parker, "will be to orient new students with the various campus clubs and organizations." Highlighting the affair will be brief talks given by representatives of the general classes of organizations on the campus. The representative will tell which clubs come under his general grouping, and explain the purpose and work of these groups.

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Rosemary McGuinness will speak on religious organizations, Lene Struckmeyer on athletic associations, Margaret Stine on national honoraries and Barbara Geissberger on service and welfare organizations. Special fields such as art and music, will be dealt with by Bernice Bedwell.

This will be one of the first times that a rally has been used to acquaint new students with college groups, and the information given should help the newcomers to determine in which organizations their interests lie.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED

President Parker also promises entertainment for the rally, including dances by Kappa Delta Tau, modern dance group, and accordion playing by June Christjansen.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO PRESENT CONCERT

State College Symphony orchestra will give a concert in the auditorium of the Marina Junior High School Tuesday evening, April 30, at 8:15 p. m.

Numbers on the program will include "Prelude to the Mastersingers," Wagner; "Reformation," Symphony No. 5, D Minor Op. 107, Mendelssohn; "Good Friday Spell" from Parsifal, Wagner; "Call of the Plains," Goldmark, and "Les Preludes," Liszt.

The symphony orchestra is larger this semester than it has been since before the war. Many of the members are professional, including Phil Laspina, Carl Modell, Ralph Baker, Jerry Sharkey, Fred Bennett, Bill Bouton, Bill Wheeler. Many are veterans who have returned to State to take up their music work. Among them is George Van Buskirk, one of the fliers who participated in the Ploesti Oil Field raids. Several of the musicians are now playing in "Oklahoma" and with other professional groups.

ART FED. SWIM SET FOR STINSON BEACH

The Art Federation will hold a beach party next Sunday, April 28 at Stinson Beach in Marin county, according to Fed prexy Bea Fitzgerald. Activities will include swimming, baseball and dancing. The entire student body is invited to attend.

Band, Choir Present Concert at Marina

The San Francisco State College Symphonic Band, directed by Dr. Wendell Otey and the A Cappella choir, directed by Mr. Roy Freeburg, presented a concert at Marina Junior High School Tuesday evening, April 23.

The concert was one of the first big musicals presented in many years. Many new voices have been added to the choir which has made it one of the finest that State has ever had, commented El Larson, student director. Many of the students who formerly sang with the choir, are back from the service.

Among the numbers rendered by the choir were "O Sing Unto the Lord," Hassler; "The Turtle Dove," Williams, and "Hark All Ye Saints," Weelkes.

Numbers by the band included overture to the opera "Oberon," von Weber; "Fugue in D Minor," Bach; "Where Corals Lie," Elger, and "Coronation Scene," Moussorgsky.

Registration Desk Run by Reactivated Free World Club

"Unregistered citizens unfair to Democracy" has been the slogan of the registration desk sponsored by the newly reactivated Free World club during the last two weeks.

PROJECTS PLANNED

The Free World club, which was active last semester, has just gained a new existence on the State campus, and is planning many projects to awaken college students to the importance of taking part in political life.

The registration of voters, which ended yesterday, took place at a desk outside of the Co-op. Pearl Glaser and Millard Morganstern, both appointed by the county registrar, have been handling the registration. Almost 250 college students have registered according to Miss Glaser.
